

Problem 3b (18 Apr 86)

Weather is now partly sunny, and pleasant. Small yellow or purple flowers grow in grass at base of structural supports. Sense of being watched is not present today. A person dressed in dark clothes of a uniform color is sitting somewhere inside the structure "paying attention to" something. A steep hillside borders the structure. Cement pilings anchor metal uprights. Area seems to be a rural pastoral setting. [AOLs of goat sounds and bells, and of Mycene (?) Crete.] A winding dirt road approaches the site along an apparent ridge line from the front.

A time line exercise was attempted. Feelings of being watched and threat yesterday, not there today. Tomorrow sense of watching builds towards end of day. Also heightened activity amongst people at site associated with purpose of site, concerning some outside event--a sense of "tracking". Day after tomorrow high level of AI experienced, including chills and a low-level sense of alarm. A spontaneous AOL or AOL/Signal of flashes, reports, smoke, and confusion; possible distant reverberations. Thereafter, tension abruptly decreases and continue so throughout month....